Dear Children and Parents,

What a busy end of term we are having !

*Year 6 are working hard to prepare their Macbeth audio performances that are set to wow the select audiences attending on Monday.

*We are getting ready for all the classes to have their outdoor graduations.

*Children are all working hard at home and at school and teachers are juggling teaching in a whole variety of ways and places!

*Our joke competition was lots of fun and the winning jokes are on the website.

*We are loving all the self portraits that are coming in for the portrait competition.

*We have met many of the new parents whose Reception children will be joining us next year. We can't wait till September to meet the new children.

Parents make sure you have a look at our End of Term Auction and place a bid if you can, we are raising funds for our schools. This is our first big fundraising event that will benefit the children and learning across the federation. Thank you for your generosity.

Have a wonderful weekend! With best wishes, Mrs Hawkins

The Moon Keeper

(for ages 4-5 & up)

Author: Zosienka

Publisher: HarperCollins

Emile the gentle polar bear is deeply honoured when the night creatures select him to be the Moon Keeper. Each night, he keeps a careful watch over the magnificent moon, vacuuming up the clouds and shooing away the fruit bats when they get too close.

After several tranquil nights, Emile makes an alarming observation: the moon appears to be getting smaller! To keep track of any changes, he draws pictures of the moon in his notebook every evening, which confirms that it is indeed altering in shape and size. Concerned that the moon is unwell, hungry or sad, Emile does everything he can think of to fix the problem, until a wise bird encourages him to trust in what he cannot see.

Everything is Interesting

Green and Stone of Chelsea have kindly donated a £700 voucher to Holy Trinity School.

The voucher can be spent in their shop on art materials and was funded by two of their customers, Mr Tonking and Mr Davenport. The two, very, kind gentleman asked for the voucher to be donated to a local school and we were the very fortunate ones. A great big thank-you to Green & Stone, Mr Tonking and Mr Davenport from all of the Governors, staff and children at Holy Trinity school, your kind act of generosity will further enhance our art lessons. In addition to this, Green and Stone are happy to offer Holy Trinity pupils a 10% discount when buying art and craft materials in the shop or over the phone.

As we all know, generosity is one of our school virtues and these are perfect examples of acts of generosity.

'A LIKENESS'

Self Portrait Competition

Our schools have sadly missed out on the popular Whole School Photo this year so as part of our fundraising efforts this term we would like to invite the children to enter a Self-Portrait Competition as a positive and creative response to the last three months of lockdown and where combined, every entry will be used to make a Whole School Picture of Portraits in memory of the year that the schools closed and pupils were home schooled.

Here is how to enter the Christ Church & Holy Trinity Self Portrait Competition:

Pay £1 to enter the competition, donations can be made on School Comms Design your own self portrait (head and neck only) on a 7 x 5" piece of sketch book paper. Remember to make sure it is portrait orientation. You can ask a parent or carer to cut out the size for you in your sketch books.

You can paint it (with your watercolour palette or use poster paint), use pastels or coloured crayons, the choice is yours. We want them to be as colourful as possible and stand out beautifully on a wall or from a distance. Please remember to write your full name and class on the back in pencil.

You will have two weeks to complete your portrait (please hand it in to your Class Teacher by 6th July or to your Rainbow learning group teacher. If you are still at home you can email it to krose@ccht.rbkc.sch.uk.

You can enter the competition twice if you would like to do a portrait of your Class Teacher, Head Teacher or another member of staff too!

There will be one prize per class for the most 'likeness' seen in the Self Portrait.

The winners will be chosen by a picture perfect panel and announced at your child's graduation.

Good Luck and Let's get Creative....

Back to school learning

Last week the Blue Rainbow learners learnt about Spanish artist, Salvador Dali.

After learning all kinds of weird and wonderful facts about Dali, the group created self portraits. These weren't just any ordinary self portraits! Each of them featured a trademark Dali moustache. Look at how amazing they are! Can you work out which Blue, Rainbow learners they are?

To find out more about Salvador Dali, visit the link below

Back to school learning

Our Red, Rainbow Learners have been busy creating birds out of coloured card and pencils. What amazing pieces they have produced! Well done Red Rainbows, they are fantastic.

A poem by Khalil - Year 6

Change

By Khalil Youssefi

Change is always happening
It's a fact my friend it's like fads
friends

It's like how I use to go to primary

Now that door has closed

And now another door has opened

But it's a chance to make new friends

Doing work at home ☑x+

Not leaving

Uk lockdown making me sound like a mouse

Growing my hair X

Getting fat and eating like a bear

Change.

A poem by Zain — Year 6

CHANGE

Change is always happening

It's a fact my friend

I hate lockdown

It's like it will never end.

Lockdown blew all my plans away.

'Atchoo!'

Sorry my hay fever is getting really really bad.

June is still marching

It's very very warm,

But yet I'm still standing.

Zain.

Students of the week

Blue Group

Our first student of the week award goes to a little girl who has been trying really hard with her reading. Miss Martin enjoys listening to this girl read and it's lovely to see her sounding out and blending words so nicely. Her letter formation is beautiful and neat and it's always a pleasure seeing this girl complete her work. She has lovely manners and a sweet approach towards her friends. It has been great seeing this girl's confidence grow and seeing her so happy at school. Well done and congratulations to Taomi-Ashley.

Red Group

Our second student of the week award goes to a little girl who never ceases to amaze Mrs Palmer with her passion for learning. There have been so many achievements this week that it is hard to keep track. She has been sharing her superb knowledge of the 2 and 5 times tables and she has even been given a bronze book to help her to work towards her first badge. She has also taken to her new writing target so quickly and is constantly editing her work with her green pen. As if that wasn't enough, she created the most amazing picture of the world on Monday and even remembered to add in the equator! What a star and what a week. Thank you for being such a delight to teach. Huge congratulations go to Annabelle

Blue Group

The Special Mention this week goes to a little boy who has been putting an incredible amount of effort into his learning. This little boy has been working so hard to improve the quality of his work, both writing and other activities. He has been trying his best to take his time, work carefully and complete his tasks to a high standard. His dedication and effort are really shining through and the work he has been producing has been outstanding. Miss Smart and Miss Quirke couldn't be prouder of how hard you try! Keep up this amazing effort! A big well done goes to Marcus.

Red Group

This week's special mention goes to a little boy who has been putting much more effort and focus into his learning. He is trying very hard in alphabet code to use his neat, cursive handwriting and used this in his information poster about whales. This little boy has also been a math superstar this week when comparing numbers. Keep on trying your best and well done to Nikolas.

Students of the week

The Year 2 student of the week goes to a boy who always tries his best! It has been an absolute delight seeing this boy once a week at school. He never fails to light up a room with his big smile and positive attitude. This boy showed real perseverance during his English task on Tuesday where he discovered a pirate treasure chest in the classroom and brainstormed lots of ideas for a creative story. I can't wait to see where these ideas will lead to next week. Keep up this amazing love for learning!

Congratulations, Max.

Students of the week

This pupil not only worked hard with the Home Learning but also continued her practice of making the work look as amazing as possible. It is always a pleasure to mark your work.

Well done Bitania!

Students of the week

The first student of the week goes to a boy who has come back to school with enthusiasm and a ready-to-learn attitude. Last week in maths, the class had to investigate who broke into an IT company by rounding up the suspects' height, weight and distance they travelled. This boy found it very tricky at first, but he persevered and was soon flying through the activity! Miss Harman was very impressed and knows that with this new attitude, there is nothing this boy couldn't do.

Congratulations and keep it up, Jacob.

The second student of the week is a girl who has been buzzing to come back to school to see her classmates. She was so excited that Miss Harman could even see her contagious smile from down the road! Even after months of home learning, as soon as she was in class, she put her head down and got straight into her work. In English, she fixed a boring sentence and made it into a very detailed paragraph as well as smashing her homophones spelling test. It's great to have you back!

Congratulations to Cadeyrn.

Students of the week

This week's special mention goes to the whole of Year 5. Miss Neave has been so impressed with the level of work and dedication that she has been seeing from every single member of her class, both online and at school. It's been amazing to see you all take your learning into your own hands and keep up your love of learning even though you have been away for so long. Miss Neave loves how many of you have been trying new things and expressing your creativity, you are all heading to Year 6 as accomplished artists. Every one of you should all be very proud of yourselves. Thank you for all your excellent work and positive attitudes. Keep up the fantastic work, congratulations to Year 5

Students of the week

The first special mention this week goes to a boy who has been putting a great deal of effort into his learning. He has shown enthusiasm in art classes and has been working hard with a fellow pupil to design and create a model. He showed maturity in being able to use the tools safely and sensibly. In maths he has been keen to answer questions and completing his task in a timely manner, he even came up to the board and very clearly explained how he solved a tricky problem. Not only has this boy impressed us academically he has been a supportive and inclusive friend, making sure that everyone is involved. Congratulations and a very well done to Majid.

The second special mention this week goes to a girl who has been very busy with her home learning. You have been working especially hard in maths and made sure that you have posted much more of your learning on class dojo. This girl has not only shown her academic skill but also shone during her drama zoom recording, you really did impress all adults. Every task asked of her is always completed and the effort always shows. Well Done Esther.

Students of the week

Blue Rainbow Learners

This week in Rainbow Group, there is a boy who has been doing a fantastic job with his learning. Miss Neave and Miss Aina are really impressed with the level of focus and concentration has really been improving every day. His hand always goes up and Miss Neave cannot wait for him to be a officially be in Year 5. His fascination and engagement in every lesson has been Really impressive and he has actively taken part in every lesson.
Congratulations and well done, Michael.

Red Rainbow Learners

The first Red Rainbow student of the week is for a boy who has leaped into his work. His passion for learning this week has really shined through, particularly in math's where he enthusiastically completed his 3D shape work. I guess we could say that this boy has been having a ball (sphere) with his learning. Keep working hard and you will accomplish wonderful things!

Congratulations, Zacki.

Red Rainbow Learners

The second student of the week is a girl who has impressed Miss Birmingham and Mrs Hylton with her work ethic and positive attitude. She has persevered through every task, no matter how tricky! One highlight for this week has been the level of effort that this girl has put into her English work. She has thought carefully about aspects of the story that we have been reading and incorporated this into creating her own character. This included a drawing with detailed labeling. Your hard work is certainly paying off!

Congratulations, Jessica
